This seminar-workshop intends to: (a) update librarians, administrators and other information users on the role of librarians and other information specialists in the implementation of the K-12 particularly in enhancing their library collection; (b) enhance the strategies and techniques in conducting library instruction using the outcomes-based design; (c) be competent in preparing reports to different accrediting bodies; and (d) enhance skills in making researches.

We have invited known personalities in the profession to share their expertise and experiences. Also, administrators, librarians, faculty and other professionals will have the opportunity to experience a live-selection from a wide array of updated titles of books provided by booksellers and publishers.

The seminar registration fees are as follows:
