RE: Off-Campus Access to University Libraries Subscribed Research Databases through RemoteXs

Date: August 17, 2020

The University Libraries and Audio-Visual Center is pleased to inform the University Community-Higher Education unit that ALL research databases subscribed by the Library can now be accessed OFF-CAMPUS using a single platform called REMOTEXs.

RemoteXs is a cloud-based solution that enables library users access to subscribed digital resources such as research databases (E-journals & E-books) anytime and anywhere using variety of devices, including tablets and smartphones.

The University's URL for RemoteXs is <https://remotelibrary.addu.edu.ph>. All users should create a RemoteXs account by registering on the link using their AdDU email address.

Please visit the library's website <https://library.addu.edu.ph> for more information and for the detailed procedures on how to create an account and on how to log-in to RemoteXs. You may email the university libraries at univ.library@addu.edu.ph for clarification and further inquiries.

On the other hand, library's e-resources can still be accessed via Daigler Learning Environment.

Keep safe and access our research databases OFF-CAMPUS.
